Re Item III

Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

III.1 Claims 1-8, 14

No Search Report has been established in respect of claims1-8, 14 accordingly to Article 34(4)(a)(i) PCT for the following reasons that said claims define, as subject matter, an animal model in which said animal visceral pain will be deliberately generated through a special technical feature. Such special technical feature appears to be contrary to morality.

Therefore no examination of claims 1-8, 14 is performed in view of Article 34.4(a)(i) PCT.

Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: US-A-5 275 169 (AFROMOWITZ MARTIN A ET AL) 4 January 1994 (1994-01-04)

D2: US-B1-6 231 516 (CIMOCHOWSKI GEORGE E ET AL) 15 May 2001 (2001-05-15)

V.1 Independent claim 9

The document D1 (fig. 2A) is regarded as being the closest prior art to the subject-matter of independent device claim 9, and discloses (the references in parentheses applying to this document) a balloon catheter having a tubing (40) and a balloon (42).

The subject-matter of claim 9 differs from this known D1 in that fixation means are positioned proximal to the tube end.

The subject-matter of claim 9 is therefore new (Article 33(2) PCT) and appears to acknowledge an inventive ingenuity (Article 33(3) PCT).

V.2 Dependent claims 10-13

Claims 10-13 are dependent on claim 9 and as such also meet the requirements of the

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY International application No. PCT/EP03/11329 EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

PCT with respect to novelty and inventive step.

Claim 10 lacks clarity because the wording "is implanted in the duodenum of the test animal" is not contained in the subject-matter for which protection is sought.
